Dear stakeholders,

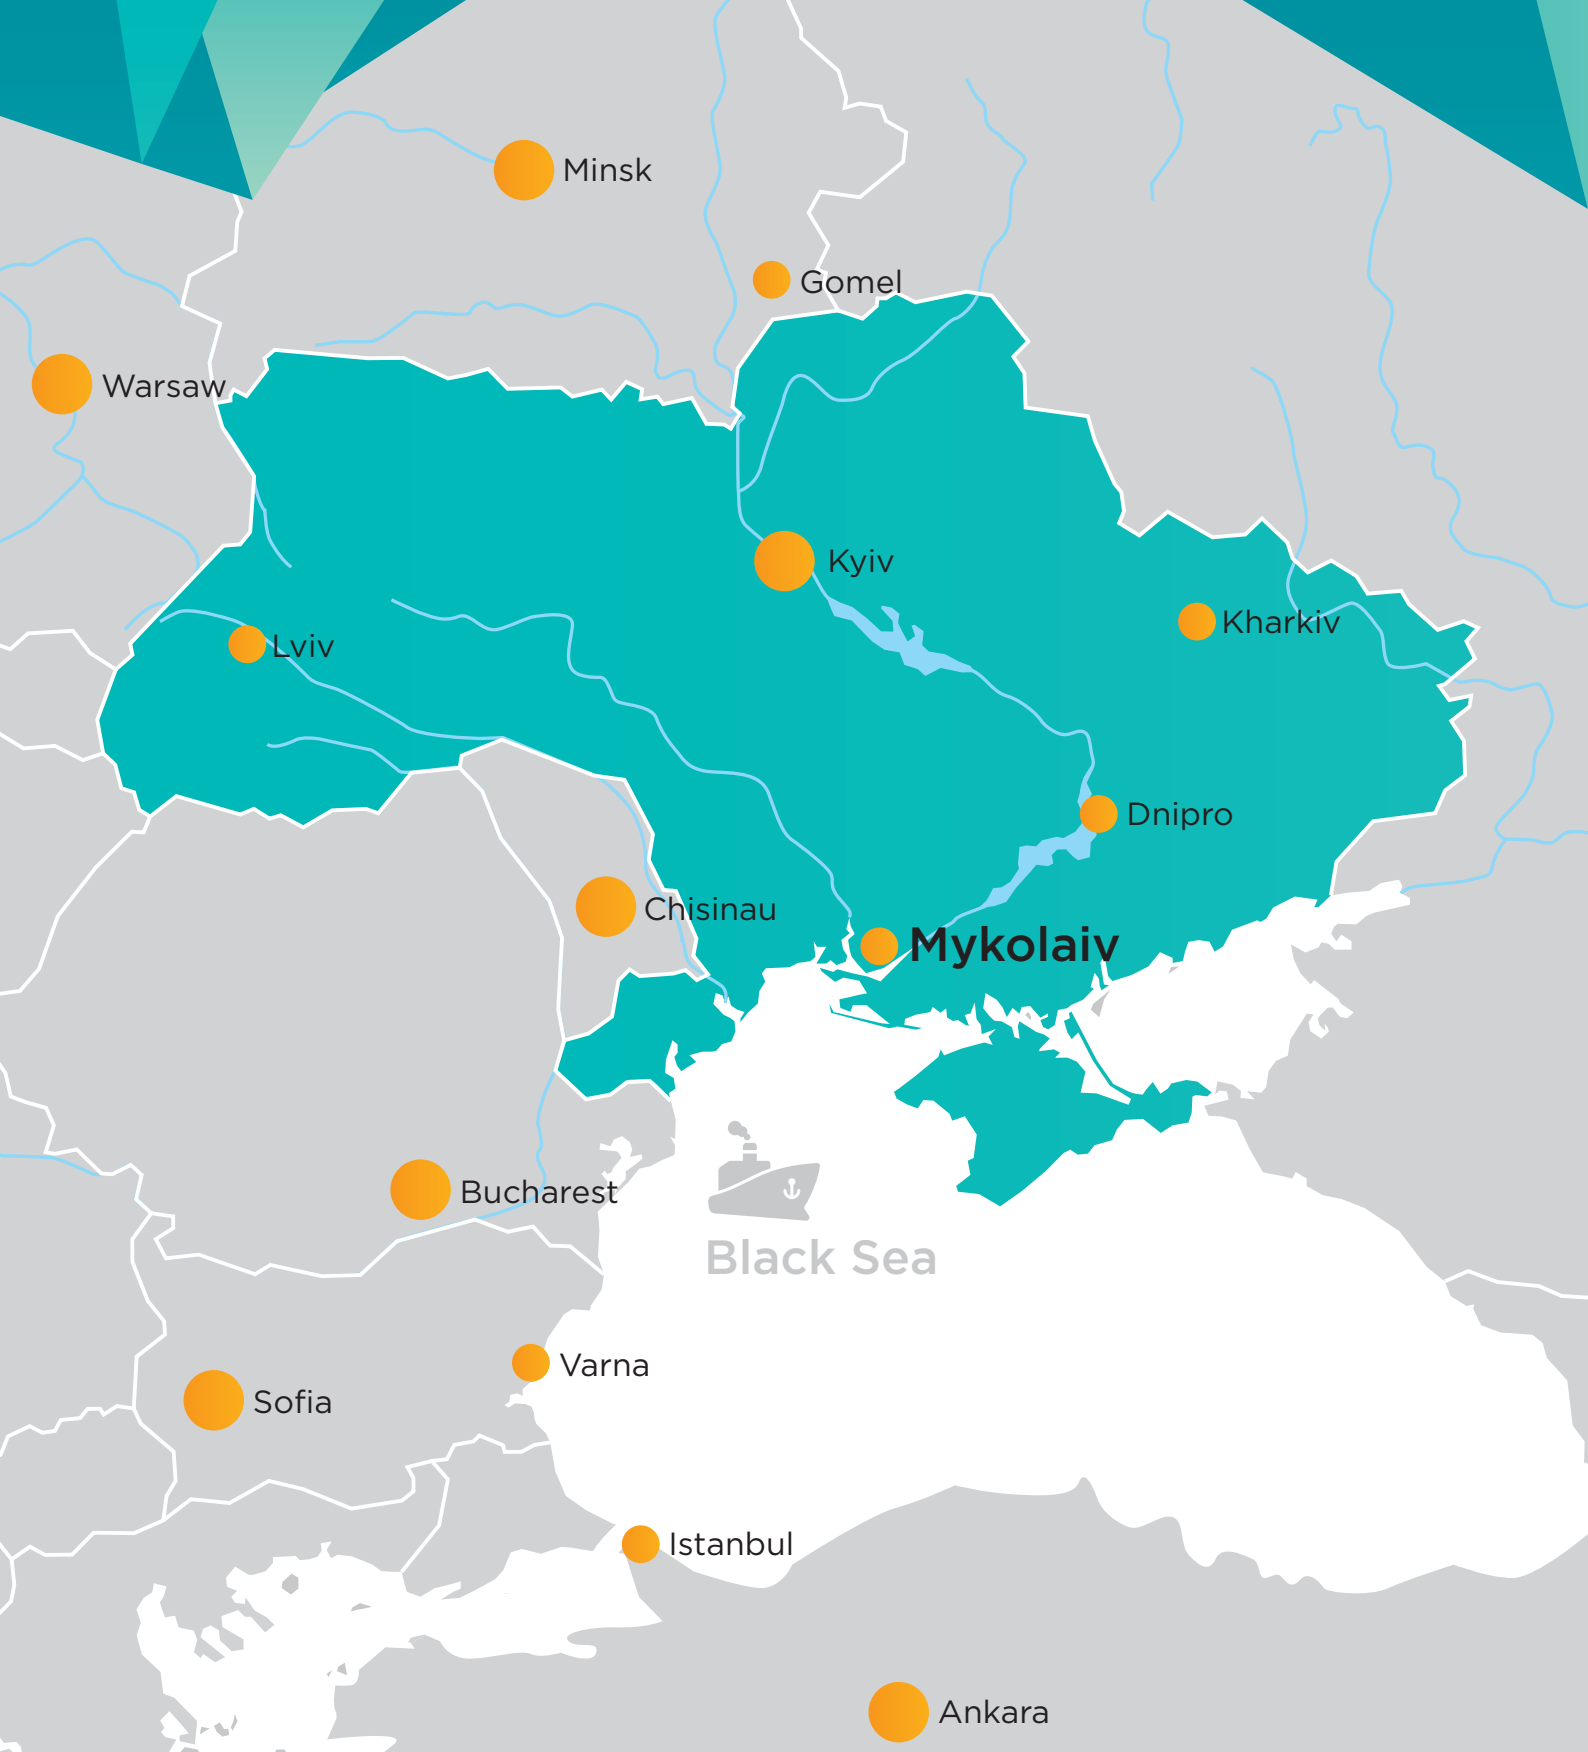

Thank you for the interest in our city and hope to convert your interest into lasting partnership.

Mykolaiv was founded in 1789 as a major shipbuilding and maritime centre. Its rich industrial heritage, skilled human capital, technological capacity and access to Black Sea, all make Mykolaiv one of the frontier investment destinations in Ukraine and in Europe. The volume of export shipments handled by Mykolaiv ports has been steadily rising in recent years, reaching 40 mln metric tons in 2016.

As a native of Mykolaiv, I am convinced the city has more to it than the current numbers show. It is an honour for me to introduce you to the business opportunities Mykolaiv has to offer.

On behalf of the Mykolaiv City Council I would like to assure you that we would provide all possible assistance to investors choosing Mykolaiv as their next investment destination.

Olexander Senkevich

Mykolaiv Development Agency (MDA) assigns a dedicated team for investment projects entering the city. The team then supports the investor in acquiring necessary information, supplies data on available human capital, infrastructure etc. and provides assistance with legal procedures. The MDA team acts as a liaison office between the investor and various local government offices. The MDA can also provide support with feasibility studies, business plans, data analysis etc.

Mykolaiv Development Agency (MDA)

Established by Mykolaiv City Council as a non-profit municipal institution, MDA directly reports to the Executive Committee of Mykolaiv City Council. MDA facilitates local strategy development and implementation, supports stakeholders with relevant analytics, manages development projects and provides investment support services.

Mykolaiv has a population of 489.000. Its area covers 260 square kilometers located just 50 km from Black Sea. 137 km of waterfronts are situated within the city boundaries along the Southern Buh river, a navigable waterway. Mykolaiv is linked to other major Ukrainian metro areas by three European transport corridors and is served by Kherson International Airport. It is a major railway centre connected to other Ukrainian regions and Europe.

Mykolaiv has rich industrial heritage that centred around shipbuilding for over a century. This heritage defines current intellectual, technological and human capitals of the city. Mykolaiv can boast of large relatively untapped skilled labour pool, well-equipped industrial zones and facilities, with multiple sites available for investment purposes. Mykolaiv has successfully attracted large-scale investments and thus avails of necessary investment support know-how.

Maritime Equipment Production

Mykolaiv provides an ideal location for maritime equipment producers, both OEMs and 2-tier suppliers, seeking to serve Black Sea region or beyond. Convenience of the all-year river-sea port provides access to Black Sea region countries, whilst extensive road network links Mykolaiv with major Southern Ukrainian metros of Kyiv, Dnipro and Odesa.

With dedicated educational institutions and shipyards in the transformation stage, Mykolaiv boasts one of the largest maritime engineering and professional talent pool in Ukraine (11.000 professionals, EUR 280 average monthly gross salary). A range of municipal and privately owned land plots suitable for greenfield or brownfield projects as well as turn-key facilities (all with convenient access to port area and road connections) are available for rent or purchase. Mykolaiv Development Agency assists investors with site selection, road and engineering infrastructure provision as well as staff recruitment and training.

Agricultural and Food Products Processing

Conveniently located at the Ukrainian agricultural heartland, Mykolaiv is ideally suited for export-oriented agricultural and food products processing industries. Agricultural commodities could be sourced from the neighbouring areas, stored and processed in existing or purpose-built facilities and exported via Mykolaiv river-sea port. New investors could join an existing cluster of local and international companies (Bunge, Cofco, Kernel, Nibulon, etc.).

There are several municipal and privately owned land plots adjacent to industrial river docks that are available for investors. Mykolaiv Development Agency assists investors with site selection, road and engineering infrastructure provision as well as analysis of the target agricultural commodities markets in the region.

Marina Development

Marina development is an attractive investment area in Mykolaiv. As a location of strategic industries, city of Mykolaiv was closed for visitors during the Soviet period. Thus, the city is lacking large-scale recreational facilities and industries, despite its natural and tourism assets, e.g. one of the oldest and largest zoos in Europe. Mykolaiv has designated several river-front areas for marina development, one of the few cities in Ukraine to do so in zoning documentation. The city offers three models for marina development outlined below.

Greenfield

There are several land plots available for greenfield marina development in northern and southern areas of Mykolaiv near major residential areas. All plots are designated for marinas in the current zoning, have necessary engineering infrastructure. Mykolaiv City Council will auction the plots to investors and will reconstruct road infrastructure leading to marinas.

8

Municipal ownership,

0,75 ha • For purchase/rent • 360 m waterfront

Brownfield

Qualified investors could enter into joint venture agreements to upgrade and modernize assets of oldest marina in Mykolaiv - City Yacht Club (HORECA, maintenance facilities etc.) located in the city centre. The Yacht Club is owned by Mykolaiv Oblast (regional authority).

9

Public ownership,

4,2 ha • For rent • 300 m waterfront

Public-Private Partnership

There are two land plots owned by the Mykolaiv City Council and located near the city centre. Both are ideally suited for marina development, - major residential areas nearby, great recreational value, road and engineering infrastructure access. Already earmarked for marinas in the zoning, the plots will have spatial plans elaborated in 2017. The City Council will invest in feasibility study and project documentation and enter into the public-private partnership with an investor on BOT (build-operate-transfer) terms for up to 50 years.

Testimonials

Iryna Kozlova

Company	PepsiCo Ukraine
Position	General Manager

PepsiCo is closely associated with Mykolaiv region for 10 years, since Sandora — a leader of Ukrainian juice market — has joined the Company. Our production facilities are located in the largest region of fruit and vegetables in Ukraine in close proximity to the city of Mykolaiv — a sustainable source of qualified, highly-educated workers. It is of vital importance for our Company, as a major international trade operator, to have immediate access to ports, which, in turn, contributes towards TEU shipping, together with effective work of customs office. Openness of local authorities towards dialogue with investors improves investment climate in the city and the region as a whole.

Ihor Furkalo

Company	Lactalis Mykolaiv
Position	General Manager

French Group Besnier (today – PJSC Lactalis-Ukraine) built up its business on the base of Mykolaiv dairy production facility back in 1996. Proper transport junction, good access to raw milk resources, extensive science and technology infrastructure – this is what we need for harmonious development of our enterprise. Year-on-year growth and strengthening position of Lactalis Group on national and international markets is a sharp evidence of an advantageous investment climate in this region.

I do second the idea of Mykolaiv being one of the top areas for industrial companies in Ukraine. Good technical education, advanced transport infrastructure, and industrial heritage all talk in favour of Mykolaiv. It just needs some input of innovation to re-invent its industrial base for new age.

Company GeeksForLess
Position Vice President

The company I have joined is working on challenging projects for American, Canadian, European and Asian clients. Mykolaiv is an excellent location for GeeksForLess as:

- there are great many technical universities educating IT professionals;
- the city economy is still developing allowing the company easier access to talent in comparison to other Ukrainian cities;
- there is excellent technical infrastructure, with reliable Internet connections and power supply.
